PROJECT DETAILS

Sharkey were a package joinery contractor on this project, installing a large range of glazed partitioning within the modern development.

The interior layout of the building, designed by Architects BDG McColl encourages collaboration across teams and between staff, together with a desire for office areas to be arranged to avoid straight lines. Furniture and accommodation has been set out accordingly, providing a workspace that allows different ways of working at different times, improving the effectiveness of the working environment. Oases have been provided at the entry to each wing providing photocopying, printing, recycling, refreshment functions, and touchdown and break out.

Sharkey were able to integrate seamlessly with the other member of the project delivery team, for this global client.
