PROJECT DETAILS

Sharkey were proud to be awarded the contract for the New Hibernian Football Club training ground in Ormiston, East Lothian. The training ground, set in 50 acres of brownfield land and previously housing a research centre, now comprises five full-size grass pitches, a floodlit FIFA two-star synthetic pitch as well as state of the art medical and sports science facilities.

The works comprised the alteration of the existing research buildings into a state-of-the-art training facility with hydro therapy pools, fitness centre and sports science facility.

The refurbishment included a full mechanical and electrical installation and joinery package including partitions, doors and skirtings.

The wet areas required new plumbing, sanitaryware and ceramic tiling to the walls and floors.
