PROJECT DETAILS

World renowned designer and entrepreneur Sir Terence Conran was insistent that the company who were to be appointed to manage the fitting out of his new bar and restaurant in Edinburgh's Ocean Terminal retail complex, would have to have the same values and commitment to quality as he himself does.

The fit-out involved the manufacturing of large, timber constructed bar and a restaurant to seat 170. Large canopies were suspended from the ceilings in the open areas and the intricate high level of finishing detail fully complemented the contemporary design by the Conran Partnership.

The Zinc Bar and Grill enjoys spectacular views across the Firth of Forth and has quickly become one of the premier eating experiences in Edinburgh.
