PROJECT DETAILS

Sharkey were appointed as the main contractor to deliver the interior fit out and refurbishment for Royal London at their offices in North St David's Street.

The works within the reception area included the provision of a new bespoke manufactured desk, walnut panelling, high specification glazed partitioning and limestone floor finishing.

The main office level was partitioned along its length with a curved feature wall providing staff break out and meeting areas. Meeting rooms and high specification presentation suites were also required. The open plan staff restaurant situated on the ground floor provided a modern and spacious environment for the staff.

This project was another example of Sharkey delivering a fast track, high specification fit out in a city centre location.
